THE VISION

From Yachting to Living

Our approach originates in Tuscany, from the encounter between two pillars of Made in Italy excellence: high-end yachting and construction. With Luxus, we bring this design and construction heritage to the Americas, applying to residential architecture the standards, materials, and expertise developed in the world of superyachts. Materials designed for the marine environment ensure resistance even in the most extreme coastal conditions; construction techniques derived from nautical engineering guarantee durability and precision; while the spatial design, inspired by the world's finest yachts, blends functionality and elegance. The result is contemporary Italian luxury architecture that creates residences capable of harmoniously integrating with the power and beauty of the surrounding nature.
